Online Remedial Spoken English and Grammar course

Realize Your Dream of Speaking English

English language has become very important in everyday life. It is more important for the students who come to the university aspiring to study their courses successfully. The students lacking good English background face difficulties in their communication as the university life demands the usage of English language in and outside the classroom, in the hostels, and almost everywhere. A special training in English language could definitely help these students overcome their difficulties in using English. It could assist them in managing their academic studies and day-to-day life in the university. Here lies the importance of UGC Remedial Programme for Spoken English and Grammar which will be helpful in realizing the students' dream of speaking in English and using grammar effectively.

In the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, the university has taken a decision to conduct online classes for all the academic courses. Therefore, the Remedial English is also an ONLINE course this semester.
