

A FERVENT APPEAL

We are writing to you with a deep sense of urgency and concern regarding recent events on our campus. As members of this esteemed academic community, we have always prided ourselves on upholding the values of scholarship, intellectual pursuit, and respectful discourse. Our university, a beacon of academic excellence and research prowess, has recently been marred by protests and physical altercations, disrupting the very fabric of our esteemed institution. We understand the passion and commitment you hold for various causes. Still, we implore you to reconsider your methods, prioritize the sanctity of our academic environment and research achievements, and let not the physical altercations threaten to undermine the very foundation upon which our university stands.

We understand that there are grievances and concerns among certain segments of the student body. It is crucial to recognize that dialogue and constructive engagement are the hallmarks of a thriving academic environment. However, resorting to protests and violence not only disrupts the learning process but also tarnishes the reputation of our institution. To compound, by giving in to uncontrollable emotions and passions, the students are likely to be exposed to the danger of criminal cases being slapped on them for any unforeseen events, which will endanger their careers and future, causing much anguish to the university community and belying the hopes their parents, many of whom slog to afford them a secure and bright future.

Our university has consistently ranked among the top academic institutions, not just nationally but globally. This achievement is a testament to the dedication and hard work of generations of students, faculty, and staff who have contributed to its growth and success. We cannot allow the recent turmoil to overshadow these accomplishments.

Physical attacks on fellow students not only detract from the academic atmosphere but also pose a threat to the safety and well-being of the university community. Every member of our university has the right to express their opinions and concerns, but it must be done in a manner that respects the rights and dignity of others.

We appeal to you to reconsider your actions and return to the academic pursuits that brought us all to this university in the first place. Let us engage in constructive dialogue, respectful debate, and meaningful advocacy to address issues and bring about positive change.

Together, we can reaffirm our commitment to academic excellence, research innovation, and the values that unite us as a thriving academic community. Let us work together to preserve the pristine academic and research atmosphere of our university, ensuring that it continues to shine as a beacon of knowledge and enlightenment for generations to come.

We fervently appeal to you to reconsider your approach, call off all protests, and return to the sanguine academic atmosphere that propelled your parents to admit you to this august institution. Please channel your energies into constructive dialogue, peaceful protests, and engagement with the appropriate channels for addressing grievances. Let us uphold the principles of academic freedom and respect for diverse viewpoints that have long been the hallmark of our institution.

Sd/- Registrar