Appeal to the student community

It has come to the attention that posters belonging to a student organisation bearing the picture of the highly revered leader were recently set on fire near the Amphi Theatre. Personalities who are held in high esteem as leaders, revered for their principles and lifelong dedication to human progress, must be honoured for their legacy by upholding the values they championed. Such acts of disrespect undermine the inclusive spirit of our university, that thrives on social and cultural diversity.

We vehemently and unequivocally condemn the actions of any perpetrator involved in this unethical act. A thorough investigation is in place and we are treating this matter seriously. The university will not tolerate any individual/group of individuals involved in this unjustified behaviour.

As a campus that celebrates diversity and mutual respect, we are all responsible for fostering an environment where every organisation and individual is valued. Please be mindful of the potential social and cultural impact of disrespectful behaviour towards the banners and posters of National leaders. The student community is urged to avoid such disrespectful acts and to uphold our shared values of respect and inclusivity.

Any student/group of students found engaging in any such disrespectful behaviour and vandalising acts, is subject to disciplinary action.
